Conference Panels

Meeting date  Location
21 October 2017  Roeterseiland Campus

ROUND 1 (11.30-13.00)

1. Doing segregation: mechanisms of othering in gentrifying neighborhoods
   - Linda van de Kamp (Sociology): Mechanisms of ‘othering’ in a former working-class neighborhood in Amsterdam.
   - Fenneke Wekker (Sociology): Mechanisms of inclusion and exclusion in a former working-class area in Amsterdam
   - Paul Mepschen (Sociology): The politics of autochthony and everyday speech acts
   - Chair: to be confirmed

2. Resentment. The study of populism and emotions
   - Jan Willem Duyvendak (Sociology)
   - Agneta Fischer (Psychology)
   - Marc Heerdink (Psychology): Heated exchanges: Emotional influence and bipolarization in groups
   - Rosa Sanchez (Political Science): European Civil Society Organizations (CSOs) in times of populism
   - Chair: Reinout Wiers

3. Populism in the Global South
   - Laurens Bakker (Anthropology): Religious Populism in Indonesia. A Fundamentalist Turn or a Rallying Call?
   - Michiel Baud (FGW): Historical populism in Latin America: lessons for today
   - Saskia Wieringa (Anthropology): Winning the Muslim vote in Indonesia: Mobilization of hardliner militias, communist phobia and homophobia
   - Annerienke Fioole (Anthropology): Moroccan small-towners’ astonishment and suspicion towards Morocco’s state reforms
   - Chair: Imke Harbers (to be confirmed)

4. Political Economy of Populism
   - Franca van Hooren (Political Science): The trade union between populist politics and migrant workers
   - Lukas Linsi (Political Science): The Shadow of Socialization: The Intergenerational Divide in Attitudes Towards Foreign Takeovers
   - Sebastian Krapohl (Political Science): Populism on the global trade order
• Brian Burgoon (Political science): Revolt of relative decline: relative fortunes and the populist left and right in Europe
• Niko Wilterdink (Sociology): Growing inequality and rising nationalism in contemporary Western societies: toward a sociological explanation
• Chair: Geoffrey Underhill

5. Understanding populist attitudes

• Jante Parlevliet (DNB), Matthijs Rooduijn (UvA) en Rebekka Tselms (DNB): Does economic literacy matter for populist attitudes?
• Agnes Akkerman (Department of Economics, Radboud University), Gilles Ivaldi (University of Nice), en Andrej Zaslove (Department of Political Science, Radboud University): The Populist Backlash: challenging the Elites and the Utopia of the market?
• Gijs Schumacher, Bert Bakker en Matthijs Rooduijn (allemaal UvA): Personality and Populist Communication: Survey, Experimental and Physiological Evidence that Populism Arouses Low Agreeable People
• Matthijs Rooduijn, Wouter van der Brug en Sarah de Lange: Persuasive Populism? Estimating the (Conditional) Effect of the Populist Message on Political Discontent
• Chair: to be confirmed

6. Populism and Parties

• Joost van Spanje (Communication): Isolate and Imitate: Establishment Reactions to Anti-immigration Parties in Western Europe.
• Marleen Rensen & Matthijs Lok (FGW): conservative populism/ populist traditions?
• Remko Voogd (Political Science): Don’t Forget the Supply Side: Dissatisfaction, Volatility, and the Populist Vote
• Ewald Engelen (GPIO): The great disillusionment. How the political elite became estranged from the electorate.
• Chair: Wouter van der Brug

ROUND 2 (14.00-15.30)

1. Geographies of discontent

• Fenne Pinkster (GPIO), Grounding discontent: lessons from two contrasting neighbourhoods in Amsterdam.
• Myrte Hoekstra (GPIO): Placing the self: Spatial imaginaries of Amsterdam and the materiality of discontent.
• Wouter van Gent (GPIO), The urban geography of radical populism
• Chair: Robert Kloosterman (to be confirmed)

2. Between redistribution and recognition. Class and culture in the debate on populism

• Jan Willem Duyvendak (Sociology)
• Monique Kremer (Sociology)
• Paul Mepschen Sociology)
• Maria Kaika (GPIO)
3. Is interest group politics immune to populism? Evaluating the relationships between interest groups and political parties

- Joost Berkhout (Political Science)
- Marcel Hanegraaff (Political Science)
- Jens van der Ploeg (Political Science)
- Patrick Statsch (Political Science)
- Chair: to be confirmed

4. Populism: end of the rule of law?

- Carla Zoethout (Faculty of Law and Open University): Populism and human rights: should we be worrying about a Brexit from the European Convention of Human Rights now, too?
- Ronald Janse (Faculty of Law): Using law to undermine the rule of law
- Kati Cseres (Faculty of Law): Populist politics in Hungary: a case of economic nationalism in Hungary
- Tamar de Waal (Faculty of Law): Disconnecting integration from rights
- Chair: Marc de Wilde

5. From the Euro to the Refugee Crisis: Causes of Rising Euroscepticism compared

- Florian Stoeckel & Theresa Kuhn: Can populist parties dampen public support for international bailouts in the sovereign debt crisis? Evidence from a survey experiment in Germany.
- Eelco Harteveld, Sarah de Lange, Joep Schaper & Wouter van der Brug: The impact of (news about) the refugee crisis on attitudes towards EU and national politics.
- Panel chair: Theresa Kuhn

6. Populist Leaders and Communication

- Barbara Nevicka (Psychology): How narcissists emerge and perform as leaders
- Florian Wanders (Psychology): Why populist leaders are on the rise. Insights from experiments on social norms
- Marija Snieckute (FGW): Populism and Argument
- Michael Hameleers (Communication): The Persuasiveness of Populist Communication
- Gijs Schumacher, Bert Bakker en Matthijs Rooduijn (Political Science and Communication): Hot Politics: Physiological responses to political communication
- Chair: Linda Bos (to be confirmed)