The Faculty of Social and Behavioural Sciences offers courses on Dutch society designed especially for exchange students. The exchange programme is open to students in the fields of sociology, cultural studies, child development, and educational sciences. Exchange students are taught entirely in English in an intimate classroom setting. This makes it possible for international students to fully appreciate Dutch culture and its historical and cultural context. The Faculty of Social and Behavioural Sciences, where exchange students live and study together for four or five months, is an important pillar of the city, where students live and study together. For more information, check the website of the Faculty of Social and Behavioural Sciences.
The Faculty of Humanities offers you courses from a broad range of fields: Arts, Religion and Cultural studies. The Faculty of Science is located at the Science Park, an innovative hub of teaching, research and knowledge-intensive industry. The faculty’s building (opened in 2006) is a state-of-the-art, energy-saving and sustainable building. The faculty’s main areas of research are focused on the following themes:

- Cultural Heritage and Cultural Markets
- Communication and Information
- Environment and Sustainability
- Health Sciences
- Social Sciences

These areas are closely aligned with the social and cultural development of the nation and society at large. The faculty’s research is conducted in close cooperation with Dutch and international companies and organisations.
